

Airship Advertising Works!

Blimpworks takes your advertising to New Heights!

As a worldwide supplier of the most extensive line of helium-filled, radio-controlled (RC) airships flying today, you can trust Blimpworks to provide a product worthy of your corporate image.

With a lifespan far exceeding other airships and a reliability rate our competitors are unable to match, you will have confidence to put your company name or sponsor's message on our airships for market winning impact.

Your Idea.....Our Experience Our only limitation is your imagination

RC airships combine function and fun in a way no other advertising medium can. Our ingenuity, creativity and attention to detail will help you enhance merchandise programs, increase sales and brand equity and create a distinctive image. Airship Advertising Works!

Blending dynamic design, hi-tech electronics and exciting entertainment capability, our airships deliver bottom line results with product quality you won't find anywhere else in the inflatable marketplace. From retailers to sports teams to television networks, value conscious companies look to Blimpworks to give life to their promotional ideas.

Key to Blimpworks success is our combination of premium products and top class service. Our client centered approach means personal involvement and consultation throughout the entire sales process, from creative development through production to after-sales support. Our exceptional materials and electronics mean fewer repairs, less maintenance, less overall cost, resulting in maximum lifetime value and unparalleled performance.

Added Value through spectacular artwork and special features, including a plug-and-play camera system and our selective drop device, make Blimpworks the first choice for RC airships and inflatables.
